

Greg More, a student at Brownsburg West Middle School was named a Fuel Up to Play 60 Student Ambassador for the 2011-12 school year. Through a nomination and application process, Greg was one of 35 state ambassadors chosen for this initial component of the school based Fuel Up to Play 60 program. In July, Greg and his program advisor, Mrs. Cassie Brooks, attended a 2 ½ day summit at the Newseum in Washington DC. There, they met their counterparts from all across the country and learned about leadership, talking with the media, and team-building. It was a very busy but rewarding time.

At the Indiana State Fair are: Mary Nicholson, Dairy & Nutrition Council; Cassie Brooks, Fuel Up to Play 60 Program Advisor at Brownsburg West Middle School; Greg More, FUTP60 Student Ambassador; unidentified fair-goer.

Fuel Up to Play 60 at the Indiana State Fair! Thanks to Fuel Up to Play 60 Student Ambassador Greg More and program advisor, Cassie Brooks, fair-goers were treated to drinkable or spoonable yogurt while they learned about the program. Many folks stopped by to sample the dairy treats. Greg is a 7th grader at Brownsburg West Middle School; Mrs. Brooks teaches Health and Physical Education there.
